About Us

We have been married for over 9 years. We met about 11 years ago through mutual friends and both found ourselves in the same places. Our first date was to a steakhouse in town, in the middle of winter with bad roads and a long drive. It was nice to talk and get to know each other as we drove slowly on the slippery roads. After a few dates, we knew it was something special and after a fun and exciting year and a half of dating, we got married in May. During the time we dated and first year of marriage our lives were surrounded with family and friends, excitement, and adventure. We both enjoy the same things like fishing, golfing, camping, boating, and vacationing together.

Looking back at those times brings back great memories but doesn't compare to the memories we now make as a family. Over the last 8 years we have had 3 children, Evan is 8, Andrew is 5, and Leo is 2. These boys bring such a special meaning to our lives and we have created so many memories with them. We love to be outdoors as a family, go fishing, hiking, days at the park, and going to the beach on vacations. Our kids are actively involved in sports and we love to go watch them play.

We all love to be together and spend time as a family. We have "movie night" on the weekends and pop popcorn and watch silly movies together. We have night time traditions, where we all pray as a family and the kids love to pray for their friends at school and their teachers. Then we hug, kiss, sing a song sometimes, and off to bed.

We both love our jobs and the flexibility they give us to spend time with our children. Phil owns and runs his own manufacturing company and moved the location close, about 15 minutes from home, so he can be home when he is needed quickly. Phil also helps coach 2 of his kid's baseball teams and this job allows him the time to do so. He enjoys his employees and holds the values of his faith to run his company as well as our household.

Heather left a corporate job in 2014 to start working at a school to be home more often with her family. Her hours match the school hours her children attend and she is a marketing teacher at a career center for 17 and 18 year olds. She enjoys her job and getting to work with the kids and helping them with life issues and guiding them to find their ways for their futures. Heather also volunteers at church, as a small group leader for 2nd grade girls. This is a passion of hers to invest in the lives of those children and help them grow their relationship in Christ.

More about us...

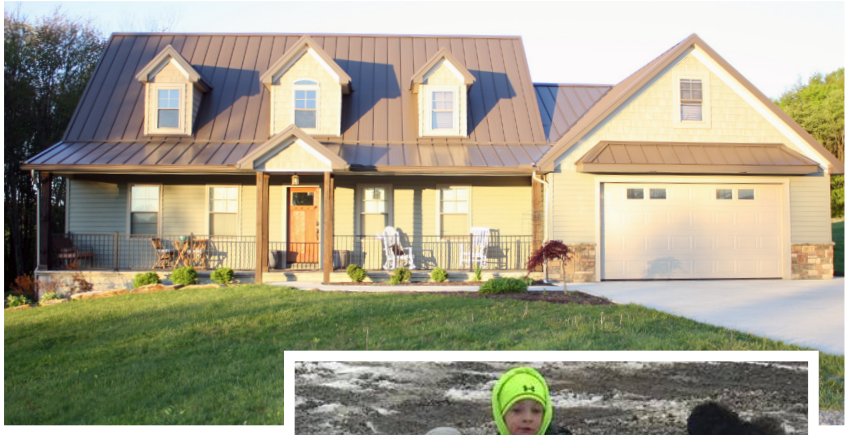
Phillip by Heather

Phil is one of the most generous people I have ever met, always willing to help everyone and anyone out. He has a passion for kids and always goofs off and makes them smile and laugh. He is a fun loving father to our current children and an affectionate husband. He makes our family a big breakfast every Saturday morning, while singing and making the morning enjoyable and bright. He makes time for our children and gives them the attention and love that they need, by taking them fishing, playing outside, and listening to their how their day went. He is such a hard worker to provide for us as a family, and always helping others. He has a strong faith and grows his family's relationship with God on a daily basis. Being married to him makes me a better person.

Heather by Phillip

Heather is an amazing person. She loves with all of her heart as a mother, wife, and friend. She takes care of everyone and puts all others first. She is driven and unlike anyone else I know, has extreme determination and drive. She has such a love for all children. We as a family would be lost without her. We often say she is the glue that holds this family together, always organizing the schedules, packing the lunches, taking care of the home, and still managing to find time to do crafts and read to the kids. Watching her love on her family and friends is such an amazing thing, and she is such a giving person to everyone she meets. I am so excited to see us bring another child into this loving home and I know we will cherish every second of it.

our Home



We live in a two story Cape Cod home on 4 acres. We have a large yard for the children to play on their swing set and a hoop for them in the front to play basketball. We have revolved our home around our children so it is the place our kids and their friends want to be. We live on the edge of a small town, with the school our children attend only about 1 mile away. Our neighbors are amazing and a great support to us. We are only a short drive to the closest park and grocery store. In the future we have plans to build a small barn and get some animals for our family. We currently have a dog, a Labradoodle named Oreo, the kids love to go outside and play with Oreo on nice summer days.

Our Family

We both come from very large extended families and stay close and in contact with them. Phil comes from a family of 7, 4 sisters and 2 brothers. Two brothers and a sister live close and we get together a lot to have all the cousins together and play. His family has been extremely supportive with prayers, phone calls, texts, and support with our plan to adopt. One of Phil's younger sisters, Martha, has a passion for adoption as well. She worked at an orphanage in Jamaica for 2 years and made a strong effort to adopt a young child from that orphanage.

Heather's family is mostly all within the area or surrounding counties. She grew up in the area with 2 sisters. We go to dinner weekly to Heather's parents' house along with her sisters and their families. We also go every Sunday evening to her paternal grandmother's house along with aunts and uncles and cousins to play games, have dinner, and stay connected. Her dad is the oldest of 9 kids, which creates a very large extended family, which all stay in contact with each other through dinners and a private family Facebook page to share photos and stories. She has two first cousins that were adopted as well as a 2nd cousin adopted from Pennsylvania. Adoption runs near and dear to both our family's hearts and they continue to love on us through this process with so much support.

Our family friends that are close to us have been surrounding us with love and prayers as well. Most, if not all, of our friends have children and we all get together for cook outs and make a crazy night of fun and games with the kids. They are all looking forward to having one more join the party.

Dear Birthparent,

Thank you for the time you are taking to look at our profile. We, as a family, are so excited to grow our family with another child. We have so much love to give and want you to know we are praying for you. We feel very blessed and appreciate that you are considering our family to be the home for your child.

Our family currently consists of us, Phil and Heather, married for 9 years, and our three children. We are raising our children in a loving Christian home, attending church on a weekly basis. We are also involved in volunteering through the church and our children's sports teams.

We consider our home to be caring and affectionate and would love another child as our own in every way. We feel God has called us to this path of adoption and hold a strong faith to Him. Our family and friends are excited for us and can't wait to welcome a child into their hearts, as we are excited to welcome one into ours.

With Love,

Phil & Heather

Why Adoption?

Our family has 3 children and since our first child, we knew adoption was something we felt lead to by God. We grew our family by three and want to grow it with one more through adoption. Another biological child is an option for us, but being called to adopt and give a child a home has come to us and will be such a great blessing, not only for the child but for our family. We are opening our home to any child, if the child is of another race or ethnicity we plan to increase our knowledge of the race and culture of the child to incorporate it into all of our lives as a family. We want this child to learn, know about, and be raised with the experience of their culture and race. We and our three children are so excited to welcome a brother or sister into our lives.
