Brad & Brittany

ABOUT US

We met in college through mutual friends and have been together for 15 years. This year we celebrated our 10-year wedding anniversary! The experiences we have gone through together in the past 15 years has strengthened our relationship, which has allowed our love for one another to grow deeper. Trust and honesty are the focal point of our relationship. We are lucky enough to have found one another and celebrate that we have each other as best friends and someone who supports us in all aspects of life.

Brad currently works as a Finance Director and Brittany is a Pharmacist. We both enjoy our jobs and our careers allow us to have many opportunities to enjoy life from several different aspects. Brittany grew up playing sports throughout most of her childhood. She has maintained an athletic lifestyle. She particularly enjoys running and recently completed an ultra-marathon. Will it be her last? Who knows what she will decide to conquer next. Brad grew up on a farm and has always enjoyed working with his hands and figuring out how things work. This upbringing has led him to his passion in kart racing. You will find him most week-ends either in the garage tinkering on his kart or at the racetrack racing. We recently purchased a camper. We enjoy traveling to races together where Brittany cheers on Brad with our family and awesome race friends.

I am beyond excited to get to tell you my thoughts and feelings regarding Brad. He is one of the most thoughtful, hardworking, charismatic, inclusive, and goofy people I know. He makes it known I am loved by him daily. I am a happier person when he is around and he always knows what to say and when to say it. I have never had someone other than my own parents support me in the way he does. I feel as though I am a more outgoing and confident person because of him. I am not afraid to share my feeling with him because it often leads to a rationale conversation that in the end somehow makes things just feel ok and right. We are a strong team because we are better due to each other. These characteristics and many more would make Brad a wonderful father. His patience and nurturing demeanor would allow any child to thrive with him by their side.

Brittany is an amazing person, and it is my pleasure to share with you why I feel this way. She is the most hard-working, dedicated, accepting, and loyal person that I know. She is an inspiration to me, as she will set a goal, develop a plan to achieve, and celebrate the success while maintaining her/our daily routine. While she is diligent, dedicated to a plan, and strives to achieve success, she will continually put others first and adjust our plans as needed to ensure that everyone is satisfied along the way. Brittany is the rock that keeps us marching towards our lifelong goals. Because of this, we have grown closer each year that we have been married (June 2008). She keeps our life well rounded as most of our closest friends have come through her connections. Brittany would make an outstanding Mother, as the values she possesses will provide a solid foundation to build a family on.

OUR HOME

We have been in our current house since 2009. It is a two story, four bedroom colonial. The backyard includes a large deck great for entertaining family and friends as well as a large fenced in yard area perfect for kids to play in. Our town has that small town feel but is also easily accessible to a large metropolitan area. The town includes some great historic sites as well as some unique family run restaurants and shopping in the area. We are located right next to some of the best hospitals and universities in the state. There is a lively culture all around us, which is exciting.

OUR FAMILY

Although our families do not live near us, the support we receive from them is tremendous. With the drop of a hat, they are by our side and ready to celebrate every life experience or roll up their sleeves and provide assistance when needed. Our family and friends are beyond excited to begin this journey with us. We could not be happier that we have the best people to support us in this exciting time of our life.

Dear Birthparent,

Thank you for taking the time to get to know us and look at our profile. We cannot begin to comprehend the hard decision you are making. You have a strength that deserves a tremendous amount of credit. We hope you are looking at our profile and are provided with comfort knowing we will make available a loving, accepting, and full of fun environment for your child to flourish in. We have faith the right situation will present itself to us and pray for the same for you.

Sincerely,

Brad & Brittany

Why Adoption?

We want to be parents and watch our marriage continue to grow with this new role. We had some of the best parents. We would love nothing more than to raise a child of our own with the skills and values taught to us. We cannot imagine a life without us being parents as it is our life long goal. After years of infertility struggles, we are excited to pursue adoption. We look forward to showing unconditional love to a child of any race or ethnicity. We will strive to be able to provide them with a nurturing environment to grow into their own independent individual. We want nothing more than to celebrate their successes and be their pillar of strength as they conquer life.
