about us

We met when we were both twenty-two years old through Matt's brother. We had an immediate connection, dated for a few years and got married in 2012. We have an amazing marriage filled with love, respect, and humor. We love spending time together at home with a fire going, as much as experiencing new things through travel. We spend a lot of our free time getting together with our family and friends. Tara is a registered nurse, and currently works giving patients specialty IV medications in their homes. She loves being able to help people while also earning an income. She is also furthering her education, and will be finished with a bachelor of nursing degree later this year. Matt has been a professional musician for most of his adult life. He has a degree in audio engineering and video production, and is currently working on a degree in medical imaging. We have always wanted to have a big family, and are so excited about adding children to our lives!

who is Tara

Written by Matt: I know this may sound cheesy but Tara is the yin to my yang. She has an amazing way of keeping me humble and making me feel like I can do anything I set my mind to. We laugh every day and she makes me feel as though I'm the funniest man on earth. Tara is unbelievably caring and patient. She is reserved and maybe a bit shy unless she is speaking her mind. Her life-long dream is to be a mother, and without a doubt in my mind she will literally be the best mother anyone could wish for. I am undoubtedly the luckiest man on earth to have been chosen by Tara to be her life partner.

who is Matt

Written by Tara: Matt is the best part of my life. He has an infectious personality, and everyone he meets instantly loves him. He is "that person" that everyone wants to be around. He makes me laugh every day. He has so much talent and is incredibly creative. The things I love most about Matt is his huge heart and his positive attitude. He is a kind, giving, and loyal man. I know he will be an amazing dad, and our children will have so much fun with him. I am so blessed I get to spend the rest of my life being by his side.

our HOME

We moved into our home in 2016. We live in the county, but are close to the city. Matt loves gardening and working on the yard in the summer, and Tara loves decorating and doing projects inside. Our house is a 4 bedroom, 2 bathroom ranch style. We really enjoy the quiet vibe of the county, but go into the city very often to meet up with family and friends, and try new restaurants. We love spending time outside with our neighbors, and the dogs love being able to run around and play. We think our future children will love playing in our large yard, and seeing all the nature surrounding us. There are rabbits, deer, and our neighbors across the street even have horses!

OUR family + friends

Having a close family means everything to us. We are so blessed to have such amazing people around us for support, love, and friendship. We all live within an hour of each other, and get together frequently for dinners, holidays, or just hanging around the house.

Matt's family are all very close and speak to each other daily. He is the youngest, and has two brothers and one sister. His oldest brother is married with two children. His sister lives the closest to us, so we spend a lot of time with her. She has one son. Matt and his other brother are only 11 months apart and act like twins! He is married with two small boys, and shares Matt's interest in music. Matt's parents are incredibly kind and supportive, and are excited to become grandparents again!

Tara grew up with her mother and sister. Her sister is a year and a half older than her, and is married with three children. Her youngest child is two years old, and we would love him to have a cousin close in age! Tara's mother remarried about ten years ago. Her and her husband live close by, and are really excited about the prospect of a new baby in the family! Tara's father remarried when she was young, and they had two more children who are both currently in college. We go out to eat a lot with Tara's father and stepmother, and see her younger sister and brother when they are on breaks from school.

Our friends are like family to us. We have known most of them since our teens or early twenties. Everyone is so supportive of our decision to adopt, and can't wait to meet our new edition! We are also very close with our neighbors, and love to get together and have cook outs and watch sports.

dear birth parent,

Thank you so much for taking the time to get to know us a little better through our profile. We have enormous respect for the decision to place a child for adoption. We will always be open about adoption with our future children, and are committed to helping them understand the love that their birth parents have for them. We are very open to raising a child of a different race or ethnicity, and realize the importance of sharing their birth culture with them. We will love our future children with all of our being, and promise to give them the best possible life we can.

SINCERELY,

why ADOPTION?

When we picture our future, we see children, laughter, and a very close and loving family. Our biggest dream is to become parents, and have always considered adoption as a way to achieve this. So far, we have not been able to conceive on our own, and decided it was the right time in our lives to start the adoption process. We are so ready to be parents, and extremely excited about this next chapter of our lives!
