Ryan ♥ Courtney

About Us...

When we met in 2005, Courtney was a pediatric oncology nurse and Ryan was in the environmental consulting field. While we dated, we would talk about the future and what we both wanted. We got married in 2008 and we both made career changes that would help us to start a family. Courtney is now an outpatient oncology nurse while Ryan is a HSE Specialist at a manufacturing facility. When we are not working, we love to hang out together. We enjoy taking walks around the neighborhood, and we go to support our local hockey, baseball and football teams. We always look forward to our yearly vacation in the fall to our favorite beach and we go for a long weekend in the spring to somewhere different. We always enjoy a competitive game of putt putt when we can. We enjoy catching a meal out with family and friends which allows us to spend some quality time with those that mean the most to us.

We enjoy the simple things in life, whether it's going to a concert or having a small cookout in the backyard. We like to be social and have fun. In the summer months, we will take Ryan's motorcycle out for day trips and enjoy the scenery at the lake. We love to laugh, have fun, joke and just be us!

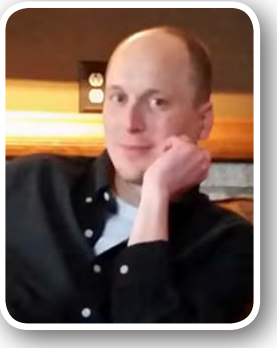
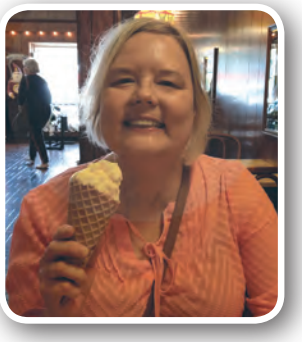
More About Us...

About Ryan Written by Courtney



Ryan is one of the best people I know. He is such a caring, supportive, and reliable husband. He always strives to make things better for everyone in any given circumstance. He has a strong work ethic that you really don't find anymore. He loves to stay busy and is always working on projects. When he has some spare time, he loves to go fly his RC airplanes, ride his motorcycle, and really likes to do anything that involves the outdoors. He likes to have fun and is always making me laugh. He really enjoys when his nieces and nephew are around so he can run around the backyard with them and play games. He really is like a big kid at times and that is what I love about him. He truly is my best friend.

About Courtney Written by Ryan



Courtney is loving, determined and accomplished in both her social pursuits and professional career. She has faced many obstacles, but has not allowed that to define her. She enjoys traveling to visit and socialize with her family and friends. She enjoys making candies with her mother that are gifted to family and friends. She will volunteer and donate her time to benefit those organizations that provide help for individuals that are in need of assistance. When she has some down time, she is a sucker for a Disney movie or one on the Hallmark channel. She is a caring individual, with a smile and laugh that no one can forget. She is my best friend and a friend to many. One of my happiest memories will be the day she said "I do."

Our Home

We live in a 3 bedroom, 2-bathroom brick ranch house that sits in a diverse neighborhood. We live in a safe neighborhood with minimal traffic and children of all ages run around, ride their bikes up and down the street, and play outside all day long. We are within minutes from the zoo, sporting events, children's museum, nature parks, playgrounds, and much more. Since our backyard backs up to the golf course, we like to sit outside on our patio and enjoy the scenery while making s'mores in our fire pit.

Our Family + Friends

We both come from divorced families. Courtney's parents divorced when she was young, and Ryan's parents divorced just a few years ago. We try to spend as much time with our families, which is hard to do when everyone has their own activities and responsibilities. Courtney's siblings all live out of state so it's hard to see each other all the time, but social media helps out a lot. Ryan's siblings live an hour away so we do get to see them more often. We have a Friday night ritual where we go out to dinner with Courtney's dad and step mom. We have been doing this since we got married. For holidays, we travel so we can see everyone and spend some quality time. When we go on our vacation, we sometimes plan it when Courtney's dad and step mom go because we have a lot of fun spending time together. Courtney has a close relationship to her mom and step mom who she turns to for advice. Ryan has a special bond with his father as they enjoy flying their planes together or taking on a small repair/construction project at the house. We love our families and enjoy spending time with them when we can.

Dear Birthparents,

Hello and thank you for taking the time in looking at our profile. We are thankful that you are interested and are considering us for your adoption plan. We understand how hard this decision must be for you and we hope for peace and guidance in your decision. We have been together for 13 years and have a created a life together that is filled with love and happiness. Family is and always will be an important part of our lives and becoming parents will only enhance and strengthen our relationship. Living in a diverse community, we welcome any child of any race or ethnic background as we believe the color of skin is not what defines you, what defines you comes within. We would like you to know that we promise that your child will grow up in a loving, nurturing and supportive family.

Hopefully our profile gave you a glimpse into our lives. Our friends and family are the most important part of our lives. We are beyond excited in becoming parents and are very grateful that you are considering us!

Best Wishes,

Ryan and Courtney

Why Adoption?

Courtney has known there was a possibility that she would not be able to have children when she was 18 years old. When dating, we both discussed the idea of adoption. After we got married, we did seek out a fertility specialist to confirm that we would not be able to have biological children. Having a family member that was adopted and friends that were adopted, we know that family isn't determined by blood, but by what's in the heart!
