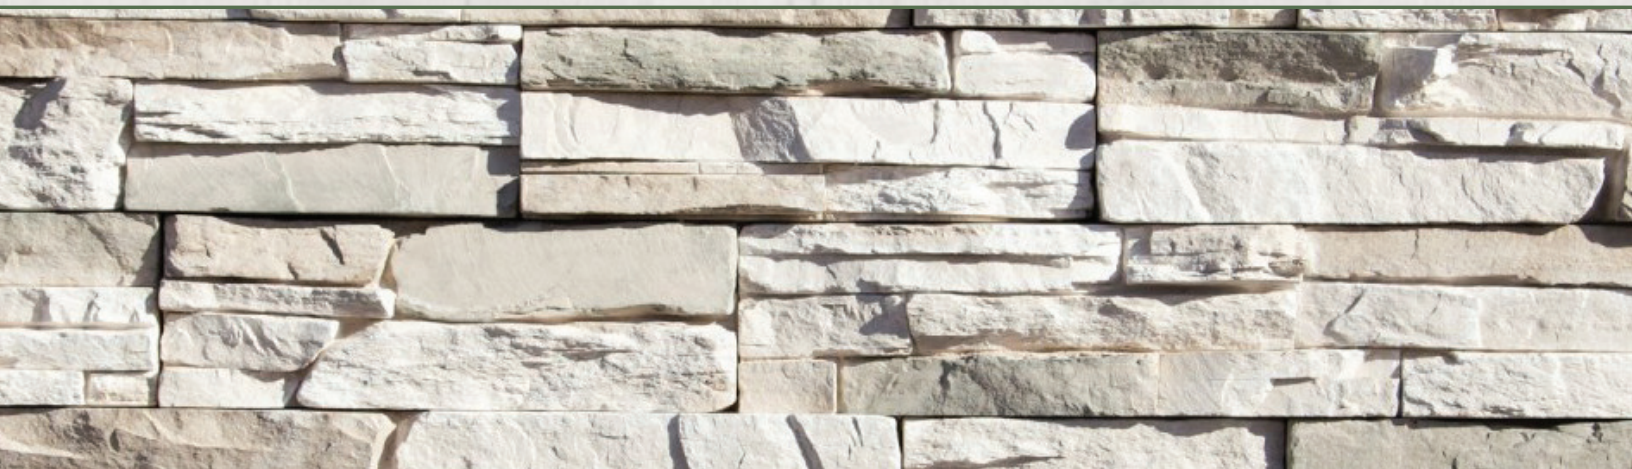
Christy & Nick



About Us

Hello! We are Christy and Nick. We are kind and caring individuals who constantly work to grow together and know how to have fun in this thing called life. We try to always find the positives in life and hold on to those moments to get us through the challenging times. No one is perfect, but we definitely work at getting there.

Family is our foundation and our compass—we get together as often as possible. But we also value our faith, friendships, communication and respect. We absolutely love experiencing new things with one another, but also value our traditions. Some of those traditions range from a weekly family game night, to making sure that we visit both sides of the family every Christmas. We love to see Santa every year and pick out our Christmas tree as a family. We love going to the pumpkin patch and waking up to find Easter eggs all over our house from the Easter Bunny. As the kids and our family continue to grow, we hope to add more fun events to our lives.

Putting ourselves out here along with our children is not easy. But we feel strongly about going through this process and having faith that it will work out. We have several friends that have adopted and have been able to see love they share. We will love this child with all of our hearts and we are open to adopting a child of any race or culture. We promise to see him/her for what makes this child unique, and give endless support. Our children are enthusiastic about adding another sibling and will love and protect your child as older siblings should.

About Christy

Coach Christy…this family loves her! Her attitude is infectious. She doesn't hide her true feelings and emotions, if she's happy, everyone around you will be happy. We wear out hearts on our sleeves, the good, the bad, the ugly--we are all open and honest with each other.

Christy is our leader, if there's something that needs done, she's either going to do it or make sure it gets done by someone. She is the family organizer and makes sure everyone is where they need to be at the right times, even if she's traveling.

She is loving, caring and passionate. You really couldn't find a better mother to our children and hopefully another little addition. She will give all of her love to our family.

Most importantly, and I cannot stress this enough--she puts up with me.

About Nick

Whenever I think of Nick, I just smile. This may sound cliché, but he is a selfless and caring individual that is the heart of this family. He takes on so much for all of us, but never complains. We met through common friends. Afterwards we hung out every now and then, but it was our phone conversations that allowed us to grow closer. In the next year of dating there was never a question in my mind that he was the one for me. He always supports me and helps me remember life is serious, but should be fun at the same time. He loves sports, hanging out and playing with the kids. He is spontaneous, honest, and just a big teddy bear. He is also an amazing cook and musician! He will involve the kids in making our meals or takes time to teach the kids guitar or piano. I am lucky to call him my husband and couldn't imagine a better father for our children. Your child will be in fantastic hands with Nick.

Our Home

We live in a two-story home that has 4 bedrooms. The kids have a loft and a finished basement for them to run around and explore with their activities and a large yard to play around outside. We love the outdoors! We live on a culde sac on a very friendly and diverse street with a neighborhood pool. The neighbors are wonderful and we are constantly hanging out, checking in on one another, and we treat each other's kids as our own.

We have three children. (8-year-old girl, 6-year-old girl, and 4 ½ year old boy.) We always wanted more kids, but made the decision after our son was born that it may be time to reconsider adoption in order to continue growing our family. We now feel it is a great time in our lives to take on this next path in our life.

As for our extended family, Nick is the middle child of three boys. His parents live two hours away. Nick's brothers, their wives and kids live relatively close, so seeing cousins is easy for us. Christy is the youngest of four. Her family including her parents, two older brothers, an older sister and their families all live within driving distance.

In total on Nick's side of the family there are 7 grandkids ranging between the ages of 8 and 2. On Christy's side of the family there are 12 grandkids ranging from 19 to 4 years old. We get together with both sides of the family every Easter and Christmas and as often as we can throughout the year.

Dear Birth Mom:

Thank you for taking the time to get to know us. This takes amazing bravery from you, and please know that we are here for you as much as we are your child. We're not perfect, but we try our hardest to love others, show kindness to everyone, work hard and have fun. We enjoy being active, watching, playing sports and create challenges to compete with one another. We also enjoy going to concerts, hikes, watching our nieces and nephews perform in their passions, or sitting on the back porch relaxing. We live in a great community full of supportive, diverse, and caring individuals we consider family. When Nick had shoulder surgery, we had many neighbors reaching out to help, cook food, or play with the kids. We love going on bike rides with the kids, or just hanging out around our house and visiting with neighbors--a simple walk can turn into a sit-down visit and talking for hours. We also feel it is important to get involved with our community and make sure our children have opportunity to explore different activities. We have played soccer, baseball, basketball, gymnastics, karate, horseback riding, and dance. We are also Eucharistic Ministers at our Parish. We want our kids to try new things, all while learning the value of hard work and respecting others.

You can rest assured we will provide a loving, safe, fun, and secure home for your child to grow into a loving person. Through all the craziness we go through in a day, there is always room to add another child to the fun. We believe in talking things out and working through conflicts. We believe in showing support for one another's passions and being well rounded individuals. We also believe in hard work, seeing things through, and relying on our faith. We've got a village of family and friends praying for you and we hope to have an opportunity to meet you and your little one!

Why Adoption

Building Blocks Adoption Service Inc.

Ever since we have started dating, we have we both wanted kids. We also both said how wonderful it would be to adopt. We both have family members that were adopted and saw firsthand that a child doesn't have to be blood to be family. So, we decided that adopting would be a part of our lives. We were blessed with children, but still feel a calling to adopt. We made a choice to stop trying to have biological children in order to pursue adoption. Our entire family is excited for this opportunity and will love this child deeply forever.
