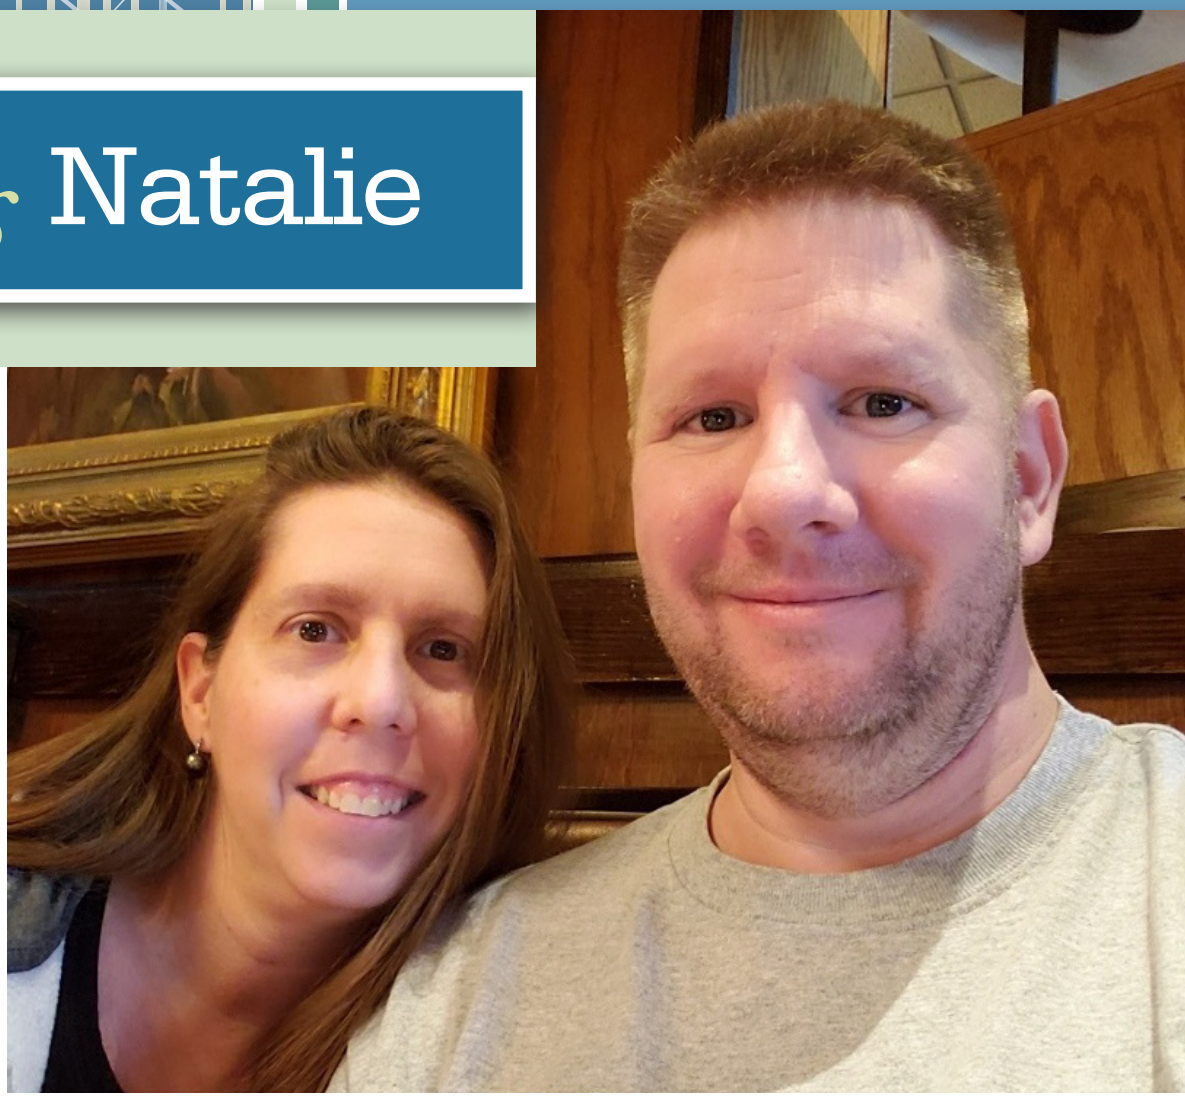
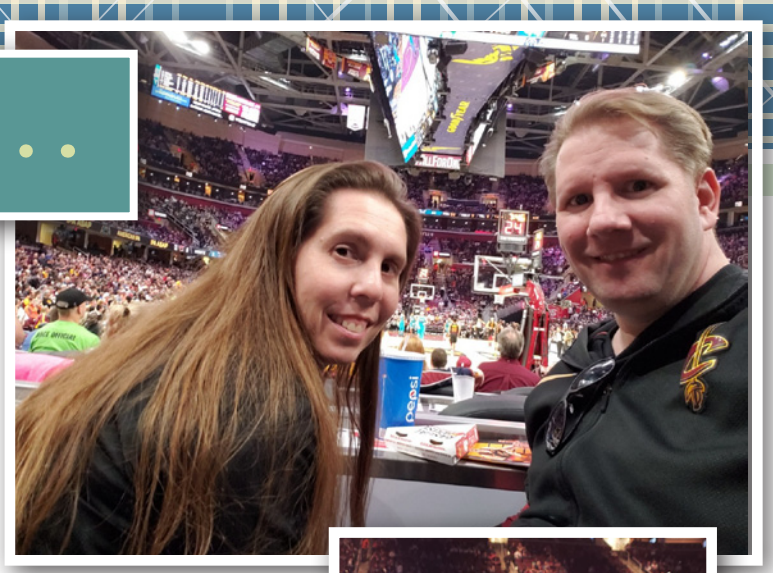
Cary & Natalie



About Us .....



Hello! We are Cary and Natalie. We met many years ago at church. After talking a few times, Cary knew Natalie was “the one”. Natalie wasn’t so sure at first, but it didn’t take long for her to know he was right.

We’ve had a lot of fun over the years. Some of those activities include: midnight movie showings, super early morning Black Friday shopping, Star Wars Celebrations, attending sporting events, cross country road trips, vacationing in Hawaii and visiting Disney World.

We’ve been married for 21 wonderful years and are looking forward to the next chapter in our lives-growing our family and having a child join in our fun adventures!

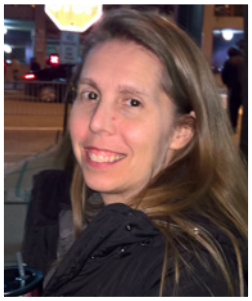
About Cary (written by Natalie)

What can I say? Cary has been my best friend for over 20 years now. Though I thought there was no way he could be so sure so early in our relationship that we would be married, but he was! (and I'm glad!!) We make a great team, and I appreciate his support, while giving him mine. Cary is caring, honest, loyal, dependable and unwavering in his convictions. He is willing to help anyone who needs it. He can stay calm in difficult situations, and has strong Christian beliefs which guide him through life. He is patient and thoughtful. He is the one friends and coworkers look to for advice and he looks for ways to bring joy and laughter to others. Cary will be a fun dad-ready to toss a football, play video games, have a handy helper with home projects, and when the child is much older- give driving lessons.



About Natalie (written by Cary)

All of my immediate family met their spouses in high school. After I graduated high school, I asked my father how I would know when I met my wife. His answer was "God will tell you and you will know without a doubt." His answer was true. I met Natalie at a Bible study. I knew in my heart that I just met my future wife. Right away Natalie impressed me with her love for God and I knew Natalie was for me.

Natalie is one of the smartest and strongest people I know. At one point, she was working three jobs, going to school to become a RN, and taking care of my father. There is no job too big for her to handle. When Natalie wanted to move into management, she learned companies prefer RN's in management rolls. She went back to school and got her nursing degree. She passed the State Board test on her very first try! Once Natalie was a RN, she immediately started to move up into management.

Natalie is extremely logical, detail oriented, caring, loving, strong, and productive. I know that I can do anything I want because I have her full support. Besides just being a leader with her profession, she is an incredible wife, cook and my best friend.

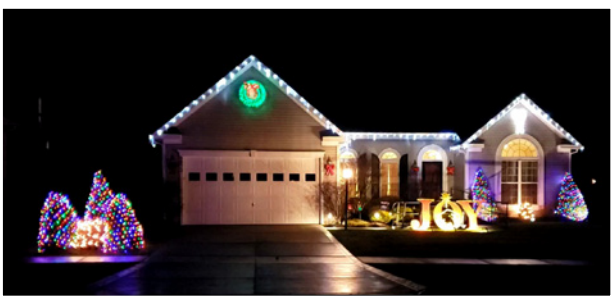
I am only as successful as I am because I have such an incredible woman who supports me in all that I do. Natalie's the love of my life, and the best gift from God that I could ever have asked for.

Our Home

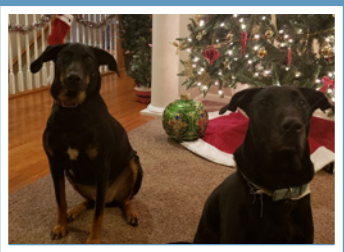
We live in a ranch home in a cozy subdivision in a suburb. We are close to the city, yet close to the country to enjoy the best of both. Our subdivision has a couple of cul-de-sacs great for learning to ride a bike, a pond for fishing, and children of all ages for play dates.

Our home has 3 bedrooms, 3 bathrooms, and a partially finished basement with a movie theater. The theater has a 12 foot screen with THX surround sound just like professional theaters which is great for both watching movies and playing video games.

We have an open floor plan. Our home has been the gathering spot for many family holidays as well as neighborhood gatherings. Our cats and dogs also enjoy the openness of the home as it allows them plenty of room to play. They enjoy visiting with friends and family and they're looking for more playmates.



Several years ago, we had the honor of caring for Cary's dad in our home, at which time we had the wheelchair ramp installed. Though he is no longer with us, we have retained the ramp.



Our Family

Cary and his sisters

Our family has lots of 4 legged members-both cats and dogs who all get along great. However, we also consider the wild animals at our bird feeder part of our “extended family”-rabbits, squirrels, blue jays, cardinals, woodpeckers, raccoons, deer, etc..

As for our 2 legged family members- we have some parents, siblings, nieces, and nephews who live nearby and others who live out of state (aka vacation destinations). Natalie’s mom has also recently moved to the same town as us, and is excited to have another grandchild to love and spoil.

We enjoy visiting family in the Chicagoland area-where Natalie can get some great Chicago style pizza and Italian beef sandwiches! We also enjoy going downtown Chicago. We have family who recently moved to Alaska, where we can’t wait go to visit and see the glaciers and the Northern lights. Cary’s sisters live about 45 minutes away, and sometimes spend the weekend with us.

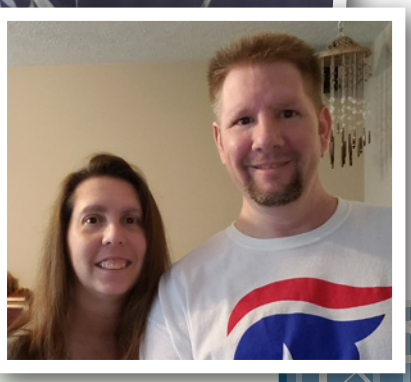
Hi! This opening seems a bit odd, but we don't know your name to address this message to you.

We can only imagine all the thoughts and questions on your mind as you think about the next steps for your pregnancy. We wish we could give you all the answers you need, but know that only God can do that. We trust that He will provide you the guidance and support you need.

What can we offer your child you may ask? Since we've been married over 20 years, we've been through easy times and we've been through tough times. We know that together and with God's help we are strong, and will be a strong support and love for your child. We are established in our careers and can offer a child a variety of experiences. We look forward to family vacations, helping with homework, and assisting your child grow and blossom.



We want you be comfortable with your decision and we are confident you will make the decision best for you. Thank you so much for considering us to care for your precious child.

Why Adoption

When we were dating, we had thought about the possibility of adopting a child one day. However, we weren't even married at that time and didn't have a specific plan to start a family-it seemed too early to think about adoption. As time has passed, we decided we wanted to grow our family. We were unable to have children ourselves and adoption seems to be the way God is guiding us to do so. We are open to children of different backgrounds. We are so very honored you have reviewed our profile.
