Jeremy and Jennifer

About Us

We met a little over 5 years ago and married 2 years later. Our first date was at a Dave and Busters where we were able to watch sports and play games. From there, we discovered together we enjoy movies, board and video games, traveling, watching sports, concerts, plays/musicals and hanging out with friends. We find new food varieties and destinations around our city to continually have new experiences even in our hometown. We are animal lovers and currently have a cat, Willow, we love and spoil. We believe in having a strong faith. We both grew up in church and will introduce the child to church.

Jeremy by Jennifer:

Jeremy is the sweetest man I know. He is kind, loving and affectionate, compassionate and generous. He shows his love for me every day through all the little acts of love he does always. He is always a gentleman and is supportive and respectful of me and my opinions, beliefs and dreams. He is adventurous and willing to try whatever new travel, food, or experiences I want to attempt. He is a man dedicated to family and friends.

Jen by Jeremy:

When I met Jen, I knew I had met someone I could spend my life with and start a family. Jen has become my rock. I know no matter how my day goes or what I am going through I know Jen will always be there for me. Jen has such a gentle heart and heart to be a mom. The way she interacts with our nieces from Charleigh who is 15 months to Hannah who is 17 lets me know she will be a great mother to whomever picks us to be parents.

Jen keeps me on schedule and on track with scheduling events, work, and family events. If it wasn't for Jen I might show up late to every event I am supposed to show up to. Jen's willingness to try new things and to see the world have led to going to new places I never thought I would, like Bermuda. Jen has opened my mind to new foods, deepened the joy I get from going to see plays, and the overall happiness in my life.

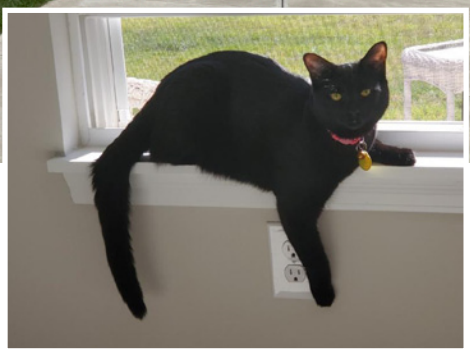
Our Home & Neighborhood



Our neighborhood is a newly built suburban neighborhood. We built our house in 2018 and chose to build next door to friends of ours. We have a huge front yard that can be used to play sports in and a backyard that would be nice for a swing set. Our street is a cul-de-sac and the neighborhood is full of kids of all age ranges. The friends we live next to have a year and half old son who calls us Aunt Jen and Uncle Jeremy. We enjoy nights sitting outside on the patio with our fire pit. The people in the neighborhood are very open with each other and try to hangout as much as possible. The neighborhood has baby showers for the families, we do cookouts, go to birthday parties, and even play golf together.

The neighborhood is only minutes from the schools, parks, shopping, and hospitals if needed. We are thirty minutes away from two major cities that boast a well-known national zoo, an aquarium, and multiple museum centers. We are also just twenty minutes away from an amusement park and water park

OUR FRIENDS & FAMILY

Us with our 3 oldest nieces

We are incredibly close with our families. Both sets of our parents, Jeremy's sister, both of Jen's sisters and their families all live within 10 minutes of our home. Visiting each other's homes is a regular occurrence. We have 4 nieces from Jen's sisters whom we adore. We are godparents together for the youngest niece and Jen is godmother to two others as well. We see them constantly for different family functions, soccer games, helping transport them around, or any event they invite us to. We both talk to and see our parents on a regular basis. Jeremy's parents have both retired and love to travel to see national parks. Jeremy's parents are excited to be caregivers for their first grandchild when Jen and Jeremy work. Jen's mom is retired, and her dad will be retired by the end of the year. They love babysitting their youngest grand-daughter and want to travel as well when Jen's dad retires. Jen's sisters are both nurses and Jeremy's sister is a director for a nursing home. Each side of the extended family is full of aunts, uncles and extended relatives.

We have a very close-knit group of friends. Jeremy's friend group is larger and has been friends for over 20 years. They all grew up in a local church together. Jen's friend group has been friends for over 15 years. Jen is a pharmacist and met a lot of them through pharmacy school or through pharmacies she has worked at. We enjoy traveling together. We like everything from boating trips, to bigger vacations, or just small weekend getaways. Jeremy sometimes will go on golf trips with his friends and Jen will take a vacation with her best friend when they can arrange it with their schedules. We have made friends in our neighborhood as well. We will sit on each other's patios, do dinner together, or play darts and Uno.

Dear Birth Mother,

First, let us say thank you for giving us the opportunity to be parents. We know this decision could not have been easy. We want to put your mind at ease that your baby will be raised with all the love and care we can manage and will be surrounded by supportive family and friends. Your baby will be raised in a loving and caring environment and we will encourage them to pursue their passions in life through their talents and interest. They will be the biggest blessing in our lives. We would love to share their journey with you in any way we can.

Thank you for giving us the opportunity to introduce ourselves and tell you about us and our lives.

Why Adoption

After we met and were making the decision to build a life together and discussed what our future was going to look like together, we both knew that included wanting a family. We have a lot of love to give. We have tried since we got married to have a child. We have attempted several fertility options and unfortunately, it did not result in a successful pregnancy. We suffered a miscarriage and the other attempts did not take. We decided after prayer and talking with friends who went through a similar experience and have adopted two beautiful kids, to open our home and hearts to a child who we can love as our own. We are open to sharing our lives with a child of any race, gender, or ethnicity. We have tons of love and support that we want to share with a child. We always want to encourage any child to embrace their heritage in anyway possible.
